adMail

The service

adMail is a reduced cost delivery service specifically created by TNT Post in support of the DM market.

It caters for addressed direct mail promoting the sale or use of products or services, or to encourage, contribute or support a cause.

Who it suits

adMail is designed for organisations wishing to send in excess of 4,000 (or 10,000 in the case of Access 700 CBC) addressed, letter format DM items per service, per day while taking advantage of reduced costs for an increased ROI.

How you benefit

- Reduced cost on sending your direct mail
- Increased return on investment
- Opportunity for additional discounts when combined with other services

Customer service

Using TNT Post means you benefit from a committed customer service team who will help make your use of adMail as smooth as possible. Rest assured, you're just a phone call away from a dedicated point of contact who will ensure your needs are constantly met.
